

Bioclimatology Theses Day

Are you interested in writing your BSc. or MSc. Thesis within the fields of meteorology, ecological climatology and land-atmosphere interaction?

Do you like to do your own field work or like programming and data analysis?

Once every semester, we invite all Bachelor and Master students that are interested in writing a thesis in the Bioclimatology Group to our Theses Day. On this day, we supervisors introduce ourselves, present ideas for thesis topics, possible research questions, and the necessary methodology. The next Theses Day will be on:

Tuesday, January 20th, 2026, 10:15-11:30 in FSR 2.7, Büsgenweg 2

If you like to join the Theses Day, please sign-up on stud.IP under 'Bioclimatology Theses Day'.

For more information see our webpage →

